Carpets, Rugs, Lace Curtains and Portiers

We have the largest and best assortment ever shown in this city. Don't fail to stop in and look it over, it is worth your while.

INGRAIN CARPETS. A large assortment in all grades from cotton to the best of wools. Prices from 25c per yd. to $1.00.

BRUSSELS CARPET Includes a large assortment of the Wilton Smith velvet body Brussels and tapestry Brussels 59c per yd. to $1.75.

LACE CURTAINS and PORTIERS A most complete line to select your needs in replenishing your home.

RUGS A large and various assortment comprising the Syrian, Bagdad, Wilton Colonial & Smith Velvet, Electra, Smith, Saxony and Roxbury Axminster, Cambridge and Middle sex Body Brussels, Metropolitan, Roxbury, Nepperrhan, Lenox and Empire Tapestry Brussels. Prices $10.00 to $50.00 in 9x12.

LINOLEUM We carry in 6 ft. width to 12 ft. width in a large assortment of patterns. Prices from 45c to $1.00 per sq. yd.

THE KITCHEN FLOOR. One of the largest and best known paint manufacturers in the country makes the candid statement that no paint, nor varnish, nor floor finish of any kind is made, nor can be made, that will withstand the constant wear and frequent scrubbing to which the average kitchen floor is subjected. If further argument against painting the kitchen floor is needed it may be found in the lack of neatness, the unsightliness and the cost of frequent repainting. What, then, shall take the place of paint or varnish? The answer is linoleum, of which even the cheaper or printed grades will give far more all around satisfaction and longer service at much less cost than painting, and if the better grades are used the difference will be found much greater in favor of linoleum. The bright cheerfulness of the linoleum covered floor, the ease with which it is kept clean, the fact that it is of all floor coverings the most sanitary are additional reasons in favor of linoleum. The best make of linoleums in all grades and in great variety or designs are shown at Johnson & Hill Co.'s at prices that you will find as satisfactory as the goods.

STAMP OUT PLAGUE

Sale of Wisconsin Christmas Stamps Opens Nov. 30 and Everybody Should Help

Milwaukee, Oct. 12.—The second annual Christmas stamp campaign of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association, to raise funds to continue the fight against the white plague by the sale of holiday greeting stickers, will open November 30. The association has determined to sell 3,000,000 stamps by midnight, December 31.

This year an exclusive "Wisconsin stamp" will be sold. The price will again be one cent. The stamps take the place of holiday greeting stickers now generally used on Christmas packages and on letters, business and social, during the holiday season. Besides forming an excellent substitute for the conventional stickers, the Wisconsin Christmas Stamp carries a message of hope in the fight against consumption, while the penny paid for it goes into a great and worthy work.

Every city, village and hamlet in Wisconsin will have a local headquarters and a campaign manager. There will be plenty of stamps for everyone and the price places them within reach of the poorest person. A fine organization has been perfected by Stanley A. Douglas, whose experience in the first campaign last fall gives promise of an even more successful campaign this year. Church, school and state have joined the movement. Gov. Davidson, Archbishop Messmer, State Supt. of Schools Cary, and hundreds of leading men endorse and participate in the campaign. The best citizenship of Wisconsin is enlisted.

The above out shows the exact size of the stamp but does not do justice to its beauty. It is a fine work of art in two colors—good enough to grace formal social letter or commercial circular; a gift package that cost 25 cents or one that cost $25. The stamps may be purchased anywhere in Wisconsin on and after Nov. 30.

Considerable comment is being caused by the fact that Judge Webb dismissed court at Stevens Point last week because there were so many farmers on the jury who had full work to close up and asked to be excused that it was impossible to grant their requests and still do business at the court house. A very sensible thing, for if the farmers are not allowed to harvest their crops there will be no court, nor lawyers, nor judges, nor anything of that sort.

Not On the Job.

Last Wednesday evening there was a lecture at the M. E. church by Miss Lettie Stearns on the subject of ill-humors. Miss Stearns was gotten here for the purpose of educating the public on the subject she spoke on, and the ladies were especially desirable that the members of the city council be present, for they are the ones that will do the voting when it comes to accepting a gift from Mr. Carnegie, so with these facts in mind the members of the city council and city officers in general were extended a special invitation to be present.

The city dais must have got their dates mixed, or something of that sort. It was a fine evening and Miss Stearns was on hand with a good lecture and everything was favorable, but the aldermen were conspicuous by their absence. Educating an alderman is more or less of a serious and difficult proposition. We know they are open to conviction, for we have seen one man with a good gift of gab go before the body and in half an hour convert the whole crowd to his way of thinking. Even the majority of them had thought of the other way before the talk. However, if this same man had advertised a speech on the subject in which he was interested and invited the aldermen over to hear it, he might have had some trouble in convincing them. The ladies have another guess coming and it does not seem as if they would need anything more corroborative than a brick house to fall on them before they would grasp the situation.

Work Progressing Nicely.

Engineer Heskett of the Grand Rapids Street Railway company reports that work has been progressing satisfactorily on the new railway during the past couple of weeks. The work of grading is practically completed and there is little question but what the balance of the steel will be laid by the first of November. The work of setting the poles has also gone forward with the rest of the work, and it is expected that the electrical equipment will be completed by the time that the rest of the work is finished.

The company could in a very short time put a car on between this city and Port Edwards were it not for the fact that they have no car. The cars are built to order, and as yet they have nothing of the kind to start the service with.

On Saturday an engine and a number of dump cars were received by the company. These had been on the way for some time and the fact that they were not received on time delayed the work somewhat. The past few days of bad weather have also been a detriment as the majority of the men failed to show up for work.

Ruckle-Bemis.

Dr. W. M. Ruckle of this city and Miss Olive Bemis of Neenah were married on Tuesday at the home of the bride's parents. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hannon of Waupaca as bridesmaid and groomsmen.

Both of the contracting parties of this union are well and favorably known in this city. The groom having been one of our practicing physicians for a number of years past, during which time he has made a large number of friends. The bride was formerly a teacher in our public schools and is a most estimable young lady in every respect, and has many friends in this city.

They will make a wedding trip to points of interest in the south and the doctor expects to be here to attend to his practice by the first of November. The Tribune unites with their many friends in extending congratulations and wishing them a long life of happiness.

Reinhart-Provost.

Miss Lenna Provost of the town of Rudolph and Frank Reinhart of Milwaukee were married today at St. John's Cathedral, Milwaukee. They will be at home after March first, at Spokane, Wash. Miss Provost was born and raised in Rudolph, and for a number of years was one of the popular teachers in this county and has many friends who will join with The Tribune in extending congratulations.

Gave a Fine Talk.

Those who attended the services at the Catholic church on Sunday evening, listened to a fine talk by Rev. Reding on his trip thru the west recently, and his observations. He started with his visit in Chicago, and carried his audience thru the states of Iowa, Kansas and Colorado. His talk was very interesting and was enjoyed by all who heard him. Next Sunday evening at 7:30 he will continue his talk on California and other western states he visited.

School Board Convention.

The annual school board convention for Wood County, will be held in this city in the Daly opera house on Tuesday, October 19, 1909, beginning at ten o'clock in the forenoon. It is expected that W. E. Larson, state inspector of schools, will be present to give a talk, and also O. E. Wells, principal of the Marathon County Training school for teachers.

These meetings in the past have proven very popular and there is no question but what the coming one will also be well attended.

School Teachers to Meet.

The sixth annual program of the Western Wisconsin Teachers association will be held at LaCrosse on October 22 and 23. Among those on the program we notice Prof. M. H. Jackson of the Wood County Training school of this city. It is expected and preparations are being made for a large attendance.

Stabbing Affray at Nekoosa.

A report from Nekoosa is to the effect that there was quite a stabbing affair in that vicinity on Saturday evening, the victim of the affray being Peter Engwall, a resident of Armenia who is employed in the paper mill at Nekoosa.

It seems that Engwall and a companion named Taylor had been in attendance at a dance near Nekoosa, at the conclusion of which they took two young ladies home. After leaving the place where the young ladies lived they were attacked by two men whom they did not recognize in the dark. Taylor took to his heels and escaped without injury, but Engwall was stabbed thru the wrist, in the forehead, and also had a long cut in his side and down the back.

Engwall was given surgical aid as soon as possible, and it is entirely probable that he will recover. He was unable to say who his assailants were, but stated that he thought he could identify them if he saw them, although his idea of what they looked like was rather vague.

Several suspects were subsequently arrested on suspicion, but Engwall was unable to identify any of them as being the guilty parties.

Expected Change in Time.

There is a rumor afloat among railroad men that there will be a change of time on the St. Paul road coming in next Sunday. Nothing official has been given out as yet regarding the change but one of the conductors who saw the new schedule stated that hereafter stop here for dinner and supper and that the morning train will be changed back to the old time. At present these trains stop at Junction City for supper and breakfast and the change if made should be a profitable one for our hotels and restaurants.

Tag Day.

In another column of the paper you will find a report of the work done by the Relief committee during the past year, showing how the money so generously contributed on Tag Day has been spent. The public perhaps does not realize, as those closely associated with the charity work, the great amount of suffering which has been relieved and the funds raised last year on Tag Day have made it possible to carry on this good work.

The ladies of the Federation proposed to have another Tag Day, October 22, for the purpose of raising funds to carry on the relief work during the winter. The real hardships of the poor begin with the cold weather and the Federation sincerely hopes that, realizing the great good your money has done during the past year you will contribute as generously this year, and thus aid us in the care of the poor and suffering in our community.

Supreme Court Affirms Judgments.

The supreme court recently affirmed two judgments recently rendered by Judge Webb in which our local attorneys were interested. One was entitled Bretz vs. the R. Cannon Company, in which the defendant won, their side being handled by Goggins, Bruzau and Briere. The other was the case of Henriksen vs. the Wisconsin Central Ry., in which the plaintiff was given damages for $12,000 for injuries received on the defendant's road. John C. Hart of Waupaca and Goggins, Bruzau and Briere of this city were interested in this case.

Chas. Waterman sold his ten cent bus and good will the past week to Frank Lamberton, who took possession on Monday. Mr. Waterman will still continue his transfer line.

Will Give Winter Concerts.

Prof. Bliss has decided to give a series of five concerts during the coming winter by the band, the first of which is to occur during the latter part of November.

The winter concerts as given by the band serve several ends, one of which is that they enable the boys to clean up some money at a time when there would otherwise be very little doing; another thing is that it keeps up the interest of the members of the band so that when spring comes they are in better shape than when they went into winter quarters, instead of being all out of practice, as is often the case with brass bands when the time comes for summer concerts. Then the people who desire to are given a chance to hear the band periodically, and as the concerts are a month apart it is possible to work up a better class of music than can be done in the summer when a concert is given every week and the weather is so nice that the members can hardly be enticed inside to rehearse.

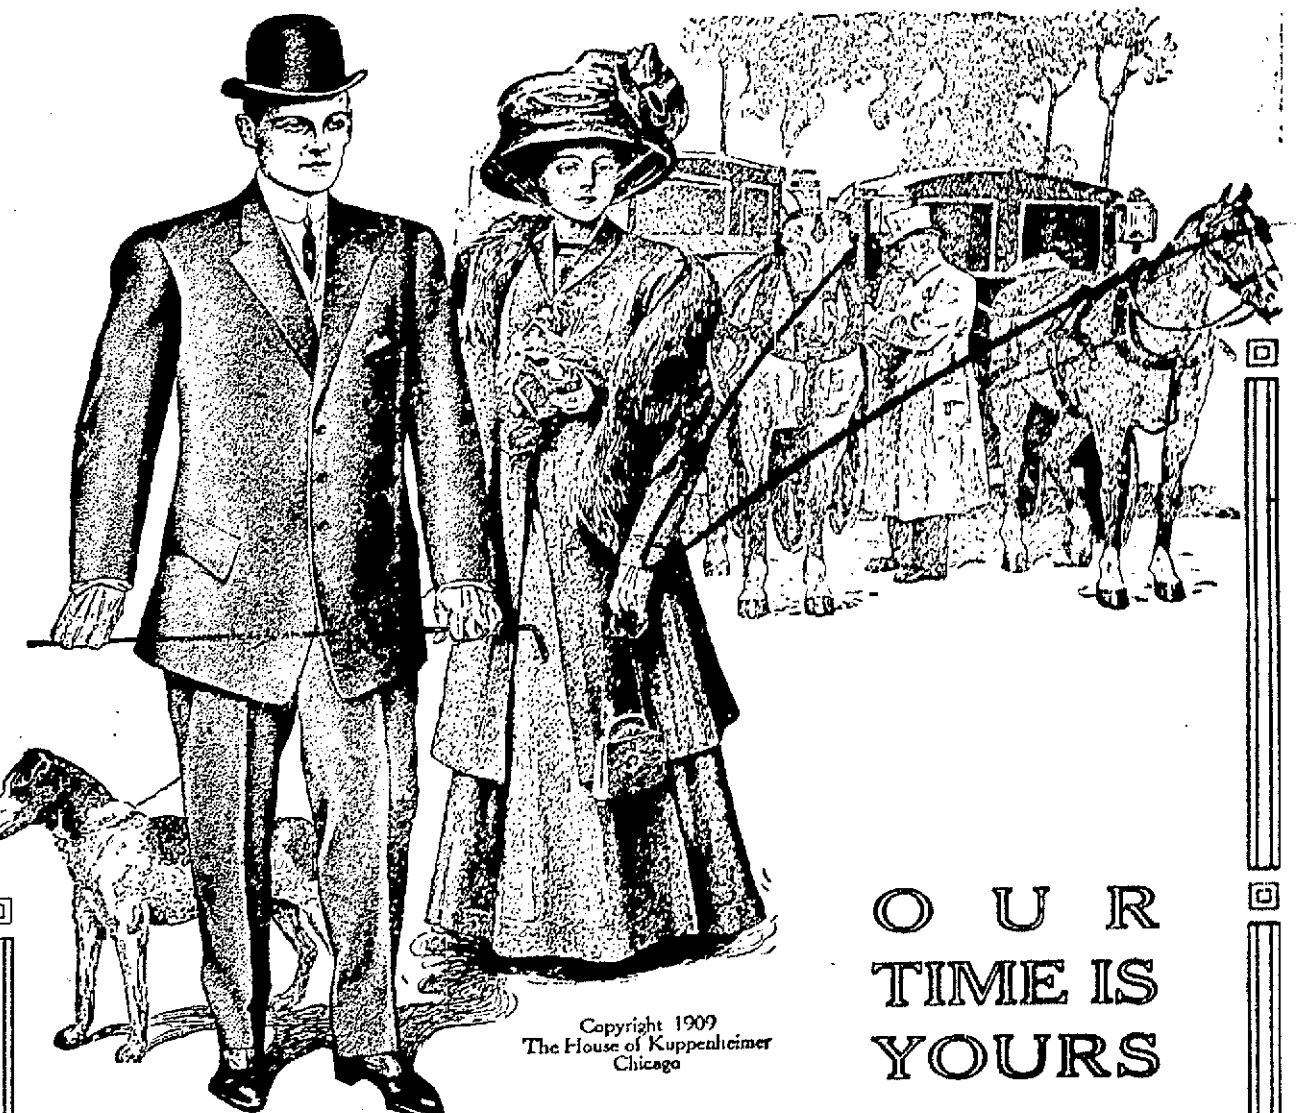

The boys expect to be able to furnish the public with some nice music during the coming winter and nobody should miss securing tickets for the series when the time comes.

Cigar Factory Sold.

Jacob Reever of Nelville on Monday purchased the David Lutz cigar factory and will take possession of the place at once. Mr. Reever is a cigar maker of many years experience and a good workman and there is no reason why he should not make a success of the business.

Harvey Home Sold.

Guy Nash has purchased the W. D. Harvey home on Oak street, the deal having been closed on Monday. Mr. Nash and family have been occupying the place for some time past.

When the Fans Hibernates

BY JAMES BRISTOL GREEN

With the ending of some of the most exciting races for the championship pennants in the history of the great national pastime, the baseball fans must content themselves with recalling the exciting games of the past season until the first of the new year. Spring starts the race for the season of 1919.

When the motor who was wont to search his opinions concerning the integrity of the empire to the four winds seats himself quietly before the family hearthstone, gives vent to a long-drawn sigh and murmurs gently to himself, "Yes, it's all over, but only it was some hot light," then it is that memories of some of the men who stood out most prominently during the thick of the fight fill through his mentality. The fallings of the stars at critical moments, the successes of the "dubs," the rising of some new luminary in the baseball firmament and the fall of idols of years past, all tend to sketch a most vivid and interesting picture.

The names of two players stand out prominently again this season as a result of their brilliant performances on the green diamond; these names are John Henry Wagner, better known as "Hans" Wagner, and Tyne Raymond Cobb, the bright and leading stars of the National and American leagues respectively. Wagner is the highest priced player in the game today, but his first contract called for only $35 a month.

When Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh club, sends out his contracts to his ball players every year he mails one to Hans Wagner. That is free from ink except that placed on the paper by the printer. He doesn't put in the amount for which Hans is to play, leaving that to the "Big Dutchman."

There's nothing surprising about that, for Hans is worth whatever he thinks is right.

But when he signed his first contract, a few months after he won his nickname of "Big Dutchman," he signed up for $35 a month. And that was after he had been restrained by violent laying on of hands from wearing his uniform to breakfast.

George Moreland, a former player and manager, who now makes a business of supplying averages and other brands of dope to the hungry baseball fan, declares that Hans Wagner had no thought of becoming anything but a pitcher until 1915, when he became a member of the St. Louis club in the old Central association. At that time Al Wagner, Claude Ritchey and Frank Bowman were on the team. During a slump the manager sent out a call for a pitcher and Al asked that his brother Hans be given a chance.

The next morning a telegram was sent to the young pitcher, ordering him to report at once. There was no passenger train from his town until noon, but the youngster surprised the manager by appearing at 11 o'clock. He had jumped on a freight train 10 minutes after receiving the wire.

The coach didn't get a uniform until the following evening, and the next morning he came to the breakfast table wearing his spangles. Brother Al, backed up by the rest of the team, convinced Hans that it was not customary to wear the uniform before noon, but they didn't convince him that it was improper—not much.

Well, that afternoon he had his tryout and lasted two innings. He had nothing but a straight ball that was so swift it went over the fence if hit or through the catcher if it wasn't.

Of course, he didn't make good, but Moreland was so short handed he had to keep him around to play in the field, letting him eat and sleep with the brother.

Then Hans took a shine to the job of shortstop and began to practice at it. Early in the morning and after the games he would get kids to bat to him. Finding that he could not start quick enough he dug holes in the field like sprinters do, but he was chased for spoiling the diamond and had to practice when and where he could.

Finally he became fairly proficient. He could field all right, but was awkward as a hog on ice. He picked up a ball and soon attracted the attention of rival clubs, but had made such an unfavorable impression with Moreland that he was given to the Patterson club for nothing. There he signed a formal contract to play for $35 a month, his first regular salary as a player.

There he made good with a vengeance and the following spring was sold to Louisville for $2,500. He remained with the Colonels until the shift that took him to Pittsburgh was made.

He has reached a bag many times this year where he was not credited with a stolen base. Cobb's force when coming into a sack makes him a difficult man to get. He may be touched out, but the hand that holds the ball will be unsteady, and should it linger on any part of the Georgian's body the ball stands little chance of remaining in the hand.

When Cobb plays baseball he calls forth everything he possesses—strength, energy, speed and mind. He works them all to the limit.

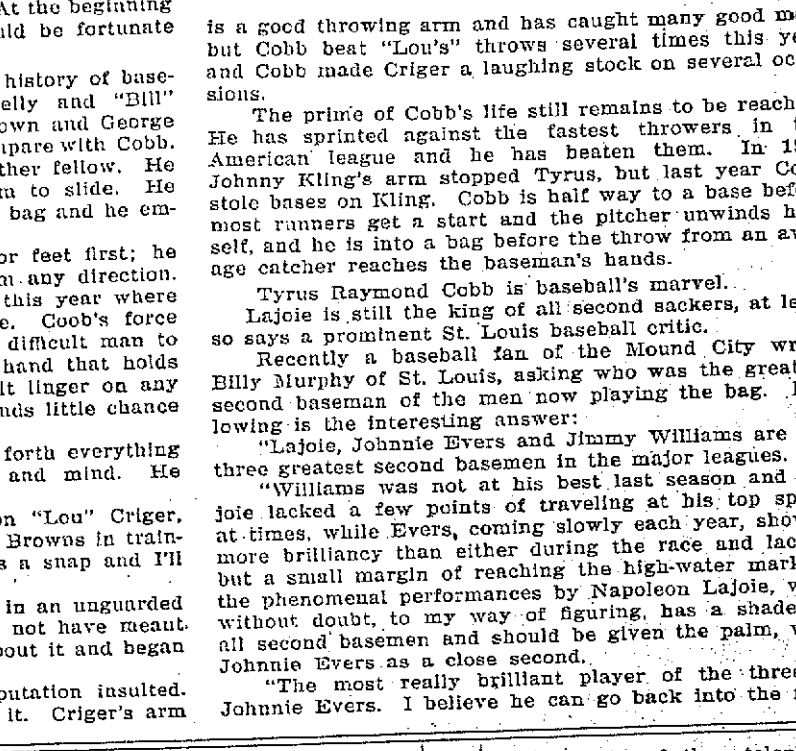

Before the beginning of the season "Lou" Criger, veteran catcher, who was then with the Browns in training, made the declaration that "Cobb is a snap and I'll get his goat."

Criger may have made the remark in an unguarded moment, as men often do, and he may not have meant it just as it sounded, but Cobb heard about it and began to formulate plans immediately.

Cobb's pride was hurt and his reputation insulted. He went in to get revenge and he got it. Criger's arm

EVILS OF THE TELEPHONE

That instrument has accelerated bad habits of gossip can not be denied.

Minna Thomas Antrim wants to know what is to be done with the "telephone band," the wonderful "call-up" at any old time and place.

"The telephone," she declares, has become the favorite pastime of the woman with nothing to do. It accelerates gossip as well as business. It has saved lives and helped pile up fortunes, but it has also ruined lives, cursed some women. She goes on to remark:

"Telephoning from a habit finally becomes a vice and a menace to the courtesies. It has destroyed the fine art of social correspondence. It has crowded Haste with Courtesy's laurels."

WIFE DOUBLY HIS PARTNER

American Man of Business Proud to Accord Position to His Better Half.

There is one little incident connected with Charles R. Flint's life which shows how some American men place their wives on a pedestal in place that is usually reserved for the gods. It is a puzzle to foreigners. One night he invited a Russian diplomat to dine with him at home, the invitation, which was an informal one, explaining that the dinner would be small, in fact there would be no other guests, only his "Junior Partner."

best. Then you feel like opening on the great ball player with a Gatling gun filled with baseballs to see him jump. I fully believe, however, he would beat the gun."

But with all the applause paid the brilliant diamond artist, baseball fame is nevertheless fleeting. The hope of today may be a dead one tomorrow. It is not what you were yesterday. It's what you are today, and the player who is a member of a championship club one year may be back in the minors before a year or so has passed.

The following year the White Sox won the American league pennant in 1909 only one man, Frank Isbell, played with Chicago this year. The other champions of the first year of the league were: Denzer, Katoli, Fisher and Patterson, pitchers; Suggden, Buckley and Wood, catchers; Hoy, Dillard, McFarland, gart and Charley O'Leary, infielders; Of these, Charley O'Leary of the Tigers is the only one left in the American league.

The following year the White Sox were made up as follows: Platt, Griffith, Callahan, Patterson and Katoli, pitchers; Suggden and Sullivan, catchers; Isbell, Mertes, Shuart, Burke and Hartman, infielders; Hoy, Fielder Jones and Sullivan are the only Foster, outfielders. Of the list Isbell and Sullivan are the only survivors either on the White Sox roster or in the American league. Clarke Griffith was let out at New York last summer and had charge of the Cincinnati team this season, while Jimmy Callahan is a semi-pro magpie in Chicago.

The season of 1902 saw Philadelphia win

ers; Davis, Castro, Bonner, Murphy, Monte Cross, Lave Cross, infielders; Hartzel, Fultz and Seybold, outfielders. Many of these are now either in the minor leagues or out of the game altogether, the big league survivors being Waddell, Plank, Davis, Murphy and Hartman.

Boston took its turn at winning the pennant in 1903 with a team composed of Young, Dineen, Hughes, Winters and Gibson, pitchers; Criger, Farrell and J. Stahl, catchers; LaChance, Ferris, Parent and Collins, infielders; Dougherty, C. Stahl, Freeman and O'Brien, outfielders.

Perhaps that bunch have not scattered. Of the pitchers, Young is in Cleveland, Criger and Dineen are in St. Louis, Winters in Detroit, Hughes in Washington, while Gibson is a coach at Notre Dame. After having been in Washington, while Gibson is a coach at Notre Dame. After having been in Washington, while Gibson is a coach at Notre Dame.

Ferris is a Brown, Jimmy Collins belongs to Minneapolis and Parent is one of the White Sox. Chick Stahl is dead. Dougherty is a Chicagoan and Freeman is in the A. A. Athletics.

The only changes in the make-up of the team that won the pennant for Boston in 1904 were the substitution of Jesse Tannehill for Tom Hughes and "Kip" Selbach for Dougherty in the outfield. Tannehill is now with Washington, while Selbach is a minor leaguer.

Philadelphia won the pennant again in 1905 with the following players: Hankley, Coakley and Bender, pitchers; Knight, Bender, Lord and Hoffman, outfielders. Of the six newcomers Bender is the only one who is still one of the Athletics. Coakley has a semi-pro team in New York. Hoffman is with the Browns.

Although the White Sox won the pennant as late as 1906, several members of that world's championship team failed to stick. Several have gone back to the minor leagues, while others have been traded.

Pitchers Stever and Eubanks, Catcher Payne and Infielders Coughlin and Lowe are the only members of the 1907 Tigers who failed to last the present season. "Dutch" Schaefer is with Washington, Rossman with St. Louis, Archer with the Cubs.

A resume of the above shows that of the first two pennant-winning teams there are only three men left in the league, while there are only 22 champions of the first five years still remaining in the circuit.

A Chicago judge has decreed that a husband can legally make home drunk and sweet at his wife. If we were that wife we would beat the old family poker to a white heat and burn some cute little red stripes on his worthless carcass.

Didn't Forget Himself.

A three-year-old wail in a deaconesses' home offered up this prayer, says the Delinquent: "Oh, God bless all in this home (mentioning each by name), and all the sailors in the sea, that the ships won't run over them, and all the poor boys and girls that they may get bread and candy, and bless Alfred Warren Randall" (himself)—a hesitation—then added, "the one what's got the nightgown on."

The conversation was general, with now and then a reference made by Mr. Flint to the importance of this person. He confessed to the guest that he never took an imposing business partner without first consulting his wife. He relied almost entirely upon the judgment and sound advice of the "Junior Partner." Finally, when he could no longer refrain from showing his curiosity, the Russian

FANCIES OF FASHION

MADE FOR COMFORT

SIMPLICITY IS KEYNOTE IN JUVENILE FASHIONS.

Garments for Small Folk Practically the Same in Cut—Sensible Suggestions for Replenishment of Winter Wardrobes.

Fortunately for the mothers, upon whose patient fingers juvenile wardrobes must largely depend, children's fashions do not show the capriciousness of the grown-up world with a change of season.

Except for some minor points, which are scarcely worth considering, the little

to garments now shown for small folk are practically the same in cut. Sleeves are smaller, and there are numerous efforts to make the princess effect entirely succeed all two-piece effects; but one sees still the belted Russian dress, whose plait and waist girdling are so universally becoming and childish; the guinea and sailor

STUDY THE GENERAL EFFECT

Well to Remember is the Fact That It's the Whole of a Thing That Counts.

Get out of the habit of casting a single eye on some unimportant detail of the styles, and look out for a more general effect.

"Being well dressed" stands always for the general whole, and not for some little insignificant point of one's costume. What matters it if one's coat reverses slope gently down or turn at a sharp angle, if the coat is correct in its line and length?

In fact, the styles vary to suit a hundred different faces, and who shall say that, because the sharply cut collar or stiff tie be an accepted style, it is not worn when only softened outlines are becoming?

A sleeve that is cut on one of the correct lines for the season will give enough of the prevailing outline to carry blouse, collar and tie.

It's the whole of a thing that counts. After all, there's a certain smallness of outlook in the desire for little things and the striving after little things and the striving after little things and the striving after little things.

There is a little old-time habit that the dressmaker with the soul of an artist is trying to educate out of her inartistic patrons—that habit of matching a single thread of silk in the sleeve of cloth when buying the trimming material.

Buttons, too, are chosen in this way with no intention of the unexpected contrast they present. It is rare, indeed, to thus reproduce some isolated strain of color in a material of a costume and gain a satisfying result.

The theory of totalities holds particularly well in millinery. The hat's shape and the year's main method of trimming mean more toward securing a stylish result than the strict following of a certain designated flower or feather.

Sash Worn in Front.

On some of the very newest gowns of foulard and pongee sashes are worn in front, swinging free from the gown at the waist line or just above it, and finished with deep black fringes.

A handsome spot of white, was made with a draped surplus bodice and a V-shaped yoke of cream-colored net. Outlining the V neck and edging the draped bodice was a trimming of narrow embroidery on black net.

One side of the surplus drapey continued down the slightly raised waistline and formed the sash, which was also trimmed on the edge with the narrow embroidery. The sash hung well below the knees and was edged with a deep black silk fringe.

TRIMMING UNDER THE ARM

Fashion for Autumn That May or May Not Long Retain Its Popularity.

This autumn will set the fashion for elaborate trimming under the arm in days how long it or any other fashion will remain in style.

All one can hope for is that styles won't go hopelessly out of fashion before one can wear the garment they are having made. A dressmaker should really go home with every gown to alter it on its arrival.

But this underarm adornment may be taken up quite easily if style demands it. It is pretty and gives a coat or a gown other lines from those which we have been adopting.

It is a change from that ever-recurring line down middle front and back. Braid, either soutache or of the new weave, is the most used of all the trimmings. Especially popular. All the so-called Egyptian ones are.

In separate, sleeveless coats, which

DESIGNED FOR OUTDOOR WEAR

Smart Costume in Dragon-Fly Blue Venetian Cloth—Plaited Skirt Is a Feature.

This exceedingly smart costume in dragon-fly blue Venetian cloth; the skirt has two plaits down each side of front, which are stitched about three-quarters of the way down; near the foot tabs of braid and buttons form a trimming.

The coat, which fastens over in a point, has a wrapped seam down each side of front and back, and is completely edged with braid; a strip of braid is sewn down the outside of arm, and has braid tabs put on either side of it; three of them are also sewn by the fastening in front; black satin forms the collar.

Feather Stitching.

There is a revival of the simple old-fashioned feather stitching as a trimming for negligees.

are still popular, the armhole is decidedly pear-shaped, and the trimming which surrounds it extends to the hem.

Princess frocks, which are even more fashionable than ever, have fantasies of trimming under the arm, narrowing as they go toward the hem. Lace is used, silver and gold braid, insertions of another material, and applied leaves of metal tissue or panne velvet.

The latter is a medieval idea that joins hands cordially with all the other ideas we are borrowing from far-gone centuries.

Cashmere in Fashion.

The revival of cashmere in a new and lustrous weave was heralded and somewhat adopted last season. It was more widely used abroad than here, and the designers say it will be the leading style in America this season.

It is exquisite in its present form, and it is so very like crepe de chine that one feels it is a good friend instead of a stranger, or a Rip Van Winkle come to life.

Taft Opens Dairy Show.
President Van H. Taft has accepted the invitation of the National Dairy Show Association and will open the big ten day exposition of the allied dairy interests in the Auditorium, Milwaukee, Wis., Thursday evening, October 11, by presiding at a dinner in the El Toro Hotel, Grand Canyon, Cal., which will set the machinery in motion. Arrangements for the annual dairy show will come a message to the dairy farmers of the United States by telegraph, which will probably be delivered by Colonel C. L. Taft, President of the National Dairy Show Association.

Study Wisconsin Lakes at State University.
Chemical and biological aspects will be studied by the students at the University of Wisconsin this year in connection with Lake biology, in which the apparatus and methods used in such investigations and the results already obtained will be compared with those of other districts and with marine investigations. Since the university is situated on a chain of five lakes, practical demonstrations will be easily made.

Wisconsin Woman Teaches Domestic Science in Utah.
The State University of Utah at Logan has appointed as head of the home economics department, Miss Ellen A. Huntington, who since 1901 has been instructor in domestic science at the University of Wisconsin. It is a coincidence that the new head of the home economics department of the University of Wisconsin, Miss Abby Marshall, had her initial experience as a domestic science instructor at the Utah institution.

New Mode of Securing Jury.
A new mode of securing a jury was established at the last session of the legislature. Eighteen men are drawn in each case to be tried. In civil cases each side is entitled to five peremptory challenges and formerly twelve men were drawn into the jury, among them being called after each peremptory challenge has been made. Under the new law eighteen jurors are called and from the eighteen remaining after challenge for cause each party is entitled to three peremptory challenges. The challenge must be made alternately by the parties, one at a time, the plaintiff beginning; and when either party shall decline to challenge in his turn, such challenge shall be made by the clerk by lot and the twelve men remaining in the box will constitute the jury for the trial of the case.

The So-Called Moon Doctor Again Coming to Grand Rapids.
By request of the people, I will again come to Grand Rapids and try and heal all that come to me with their afflictions. People that have consulted physicians and specialists and pronounced incurable have come to me and found relief, and are again enjoying good health. I treat chronic ailments of all descriptions, men, women and children. I will tell you that they have found relief by the mere touch of my hands. I use no medicine, no knife, and make no charges. All such ailments as appendicitis, bronchitis, gall stones, epilepsy, chronic cough, liver and bowel trouble, gonorrhea, tumors, enderitis, rheumatism, neuritis, open sores of all descriptions, nervousness, also all female weakness. I treat by the laying on of the hands during the new of the moon. My dates at Grand Rapids will be Oct. 19th from noon and 20th all day at the Wilbur House.

THE WEARY WAY.
Doan's Kidney Pills drive weariness away. —With a back that aches all day, with rest disturbed at night, with annoying urinary disorders, "The weary way," indeed. Doan's Kidney Pills drive weariness away. Are endorsed by Grand Rapids citizens. J. E. Farley, 303 Baker St., Grand Rapids, Wis., says: "I can conscientiously say that I have had no trouble from my kidneys since using Doan's Kidney Pills. I suffered severely from a lame back and sharp pains across my loins. I could hardly stoop or bend and the trouble was so severe at night that I could get but little rest. My kidneys were disordered and the secretions became highly colored and contained a sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally brought to my attention and I procured a box. Through their use my kidneys became normal and I felt better in every way. I know Doan's Kidney Pills are a reliable remedy for kidney troubles and I, therefore, am glad to give them my endorsement." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Training for U. S. Consuls in University Courses.
Students interested in entering the U. S. Consular Service will have unusual opportunity for preparation for that career in the courses offered at the University of Wisconsin this year. Besides the many general courses leading to such work, a special course is given this year for the first time by Dr. Ernest Meyer, for more than six years a member of the consulate in Germany at Sonneberg, Chemnitz and Dresden. The course will deal with the manner of admission to the service, the privileges and immunities of consuls, and their powers and duties. Reports have been sent out by the Civil Service Commission that consular positions are now a matter of appointment through examination, and a career in that direction is thus opened to the young men of America.

Narrow Country Roads.
Out in Iowa they are discussing a proposition to narrow the country roads to the width actually in use and then keep the entire roadway in possible condition instead of having something like four roads between the fences with a drive way in the center which is often too narrow for two teams to pass. The advocates of the narrow road favor a forty foot road with good drainage ditches at the sides, allowing the land owners adjoining to appropriate the abandoned strip on either side and add it to their farms in return for money with which to build modern roads in the narrowed way.

Name Your Farm.
There is no doubt but that a name in connection with a dairy, fruit or poultry farm—or any other farm, for that matter—is a distinguishing mark and is a very great help in establishing trade. It is advertising which costs nothing, which gains steadily from being used, freely in conversation and finally becomes indissolubly associated with the product for which it stands. In choosing a name adopt a simple, characteristic one and always use it—on letterhead, in advertising on the wrappers, labels or boxes containing your products.

Some people seem to think that if they find goods or money, all they have to do is to keep the same until someone advertises for it and if no one advertises they can convert the goods or money to their own use. This is not the law, and those who do not comply with the law may subject themselves to prosecution for larceny. Those who find money or goods of the value of $2.00 or more have a duty to perform and the law provides that they must perform this duty promptly.

Finders of Property Must Advertise Same.
Section 1614 of the revised statutes provides that if any person shall find any money or goods of the value of three dollars or more, and if the owner thereof be unknown, such person shall within five days after finding such money or goods, give notice thereof in writing to the town clerk of the town in which such property was found and shall also, within five days, cause a notice thereof to be posted up in two public places in the same town.

Finders of Property Must Advertise Same.
Section 1615 provides that the finder of lost goods of the value of ten dollars and more shall, in addition to the requirements of the preceding section, within fifteen days after finding the same, cause notice thereof to be published in a newspaper. Section 1616 provides that the owner of lost property shall have one year in which to reclaim the same upon his paying the costs and charges thereon and a reasonable compensation to the finder for his trouble.

Finders of Property Must Advertise Same.
Section 1617 provides that if no owner shall appear within a year the finder of the money or goods shall pay one half of the value thereof, after deducting all legal charges, to the treasurer of the town. Section 1618 provides that if any finder of lost money or goods of the value of three dollars or more shall neglect to comply with the provisions of the law, he shall be liable for the full value of such money or goods, etc.

Finders of Property Must Advertise Same.
In this connection it may be interesting to know that one of the supreme courts has held that if the finder of lost goods knows, or has means of knowing or ascertaining by marks on the goods or otherwise who the owner is, and converts the goods to his own use, he may be found guilty of larceny.—Stevens Point Journal.

CROPS AND COST OF LIVING.

Predictions of cheaper living, based upon ample crops, must be taken with some caution. We are not confronted by the problem of two-dollar wheat, which Mr. Patten probably did not expect when he was predicting it last spring. His prediction served his purpose admirably. Instead of shipping wheat into Chicago and breaking the May market—the sort of thing that has broken nearly every predecessor of Mr. Patten's "bull" operations—the farmers held on to their wheat and waited for that two-dollar quotation, says the Philadelphia Record. The harvest began less than a month after the May option closed, and now have every assurance that the wheat crop will exceed 500,000,000 bushels, and may reach 725,000,000 bushels. Wheat is selling in Chicago for less than a dollar. Food ought to be, and probably will be, cheaper than it has been lately. But cotton and wool are high. Textile prices show no disposition to recede. Most of the prices are rising. Structural steel is not a commodity that the average citizen purchases, but he is affected by its price; and all steel prices are up. Hides are on the free list, but the shoe stores and factories are stocked up with goods purchased before the repeal of the hide duty, and prices are not yet coming down. The most important item of expense is rent, and with the growth of population that tends upward, but the extensive building operations all over the country may keep abreast of the demand.

How much individual credit belongs to Maria Parloa for the improvement which has taken place in American home cooking in the last quarter of a century is difficult to say. But that she was one of the foremost of the advocates of a sane diet and that she contributed materially to a culinary reform of which the present generation is enjoying the benefit admits of no question. Miss Parloa was one of the first to apply scientific methods to cooking and to instill the principles of domestic economy in American homes. Through her books and lectures she carried on a propaganda for sound digestion which made her name a household word. Had cooking had not been abolished. But it is undoubtedly not so prevalent. The frying pan is less and the broiler more in evidence. Breakfasts have grown simpler; they no longer burden the digestion with many kinds of hot breads and meats. More intelligence is put into the preparation of food for the table. The housewife's efforts are now concentrated on dinner, the postponement of which to the end of the day has been a gain for digestion.

A man 90 years of age who had been sentenced for life, has been pardoned and released from the New Jersey state prison at Trenton. He was confined many years ago, and he comes forth to a world which bewilders him because it is so different from that which he knew. He had never seen a trolley car, the automobile was an untroubled machine for general use when he was incarcerated and in many other respects extraordinary changes have been wrought during the term of his imprisonment. Such an incident gives the world itself a little opportunity to note how fast it is going, though very likely the old globe will not take time to give the matter much heed, but will let out another speed notch and hustle on to still greater things.

Signs of progress: Railroads carrying more freight than ever before, although the great grain movement is just beginning. Demand for milk is rising. Stock. From and steel mills rushed with orders. Farmers asking for help to gather crops. Wholesale and retail trade improving daily. Money easy and payments prompt. That optimistic feeling all along the line. Get aboard!

The French minister of justice has sent orders to the district attorneys throughout France to prosecute vigorously the cause of cruelty to domestic animals. He adds that the prevalence of this evil is distressing and that it is largely caused by the indifference of the authorities. If officials would heartily co-operate with the anti-cruelty societies here our own streets might be saved some revolting revelations of brutality.

What the flyers need to make them happy is petrol put in tabloid form.

New York city now talks of having a $3,000,000 automobile and airplane racing park over on the New Jersey meadows. The park will be reached by the Hudson tunnels, suggesting the three modes of locomotion—under the ground, on the earth and in the air. Some of the participants may go higher—it is to be hoped not lower.

The overgrown hog and the trotting horse have a rival now in the aeroplane at the county fairs.

The marriage of a Milwaukee girl of 15 to a man of 20 looks like child-marriage, which Christians inveigh against when practiced in heathen lands, says the Milwaukee Wisconsin. There are those who would favor a law providing that girls shall not be dragged away from their dolls to go to the altar with bridegrooms twice their age in the true state of Wisconsin.

The man with the hoe is not half so miserable as the man with the hammer.

Canada has an annual thanksgiving day, and it comes considerably earlier than our own national feast. The date has just been officially announced. The Canadians will take their turkey Monday, October 25. Which shows our northern neighbors are not slow.

PRISON FOR WALSH

FORMER BANKER'S CONVICTION IS AFFIRMED BY COURT OF APPEALS.

AGED DEFENDANT IS ABSENT

Flight to Escape Five-Year Prison Term Ends in Defeat for Walsh—Case May Go to United States Supreme Court.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—The United States circuit court of appeals Tuesday affirmed the conviction of John R. Walsh, the former president of the Chicago National bank, and one-time power in the financial world, came when Judge Peter S. Grosscup read the decision upholding the five-year prison sentence imposed by Judge A. B. Anderson of Indiana over a year and a half ago.

The attorneys for the defense now have 30 days in which to prepare an appeal to the appellate court for a rehearing. In case this is denied, and it is almost certain to be so, Mr. Walsh's lawyers, undoubtedly, will carry the case to the United States supreme court by means of an application for a writ of certiorari. Mr. Walsh, himself, who sat without show of emotion through the trying months of the long-drawn-out trial, was not in court to listen to the law's utterances that almost destroyed all hopes of averting the heavy penalty suspended over him.

The decision was handed down at the opening session of the October term of the court of appeals. A crowd had gathered to hear the decision, moved by curiosity or sympathy for the man whose old age and record a harvest little foreseen in the years of his prosperity.

December 18, 1905, it was announced that John R. Walsh's banking institutions, the Chicago National bank and its two auxiliaries, Trust Company and the Equitable Trust Company, had been declared insolvent by the authorities. With this announcement came the assurance that the banks of the city had rallied to the assistance of the depositors and would pay all indebtedness in full and hold steadily the delicate balance of money affairs.

Charles H. Bosworth was the federal bank examiner who precipitated the closing of the banks. At one time Mr. Bosworth was the president of one of Mr. Walsh's railroads, the Southern Indiana, and thus had an opportunity to learn the manner in which the bank's funds were being used to build up this property.

MINISTER CRANE RECALLED

Summoned to Washington on Eve of Sailing for China from San Francisco.

San Francisco, Oct. 6.—Charles R. Crane, newly appointed minister from the United States to Peking, was recalled to Washington Monday night by a telegram from Secretary Knox. Mr. and Mrs. Crane were to have sailed on the transport Thomas Tuesday for the Orient.

Mr. Crane stated that the telegram merely requested his return to the capital as there were certain phases of the eastern situation with which the secretary of state did not think he was fully acquainted.

"I will return to Washington day after tomorrow," said Mr. Crane. He did not know what matters Secretary Knox desired to discuss with him.

Mr. Crane while declaring his summons was for the purpose of discussing important diplomatic questions, refused to give any idea of their purpose.

"I did not see Mr. Knox before I left Washington," said Mr. Crane. "He was not in the city. I suppose something has arisen or has been called to his attention which he thinks I should know before I go to my post."

TOTS NEAR DEATH IN FIRE

Although Hemmed in on Three Sides by Flames Children Are Rescued from Home.

Wheeling, W. Va.—The Country children's home at Tacoma, Belknap county, Ohio, was partially destroyed by fire and 15 children narrowly escaped death or serious injury. Although hemmed in on three sides by flames all were rescued by Miss Grace Green, a nurse, who succeeded in getting them through a window to safety. The loss is $15,000.

Whisky Goes Down.

Peoria, Ill.—A crop of two cents in the basis price of alcohol was announced here by Secretary Lofgren on the 10th day of trade. The Peoria price today is $1.35 instead of $1.37. This decrease is accounted for by a reduction of nine cents in the price of cash corn during the past 30 days.

WRIGHT DEFIES THE WIND

SOARS HIGH ABOVE THE INTERNATIONAL NAVY SHIPS.

Spectacular Flight Made at New York in Spite of a Perilous Breeze.

New York.—Circling the air 100 feet above the ships of the international navy, Wilbur Wright Tuesday flew up the Hudson river in his aeroplane from Governors Island, passing Grant's tomb. In the most spectacular flight the world has ever seen.

Wright had his machine under perfect control, and thousands along the route stood in astonishment or cheered the daring aviator.

It is estimated that Wright made approximately 15 miles. He covered the distance in 33 minutes and 33 seconds.

Wright made the trip in what he declared was an 18-mile wind. In spite of his assertion that an 11-mile wind was the limit of safety.

As the aeroplane approached the city, flying steadily, but bucking the wind, the roofs of all the buildings became crowded and pleasure started up the river in an effort to keep up with the remarkable craft which hovered there. They were soon compelled to give up the chase, for Wright outstripped the fastest of them.

TAFT SEES THE BIG TREES

Clad in Khaki, the President Views World's Wonders in the Yosemite Valley.

El Portal, Cal.—In this remote little settlement near the gateway of the Yosemite valley, one of the garden spots of the world and at the foot of the Sierras, President Taft spent Wednesday night in quiet sleep.

Clad in khaki riding breeches, soft shirt, khaki coat, boots and cap, President Taft Thursday started on his trip to El Portal on a three-day tour of the Yosemite. By stage and on foot he will visit the giant Sequoias in the Mariposa big tree grove, will follow the roads and trails leading into the valley and will walk about the floor of that park to admire its imposing scenic splendor.

The visit to the big trees, said to be the oldest and the biggest of living things, came first in Mr. Taft's itinerary. Leaving by coach early he and his party were driven to Wawona at the edge of the grove where real monarchs of the forest grow to an altitude of more than 300 feet and more than 100 in circumference at the base.

Mr. Taft was driven through a tunnel cut through the base of one of the old trees which is said to have been standing from 3,000 to 5,000 years. The forenoon of Friday will be given over to the big trees, the president spending Thursday night at the hotel in Wawona.

THAW KEEPS UP THE FIGHT

Appeals from Order Denying Writ of Habeas Corpus and Refusing to Release Him.

Albany, N. Y.—Former Gov. Frank S. Black appeared before the court of appeals for Harry K. Thaw and attacked the constitutionality of the act under which Thaw was committed to the Matteawan State hospital for the Criminal Insane, and the law under which Thaw is being detained in that institution.

Mr. Thaw and her daughter, the former Countess of Yarmouth, listened to the arguments.

The case came up on an appeal from an order of the appellate court, affirming an order of Supreme Court Justice McCall to grant a writ of habeas corpus and refusing to order Thaw's release.

Mr. Black contended that that section of the code under which Supreme Court Justice Dowling ordered Thaw committed was unconstitutional because it was a process of law. He held that there was no proof that Thaw was insane at the time of his acquittal.

"When the verdict of that jury," said Mr. Black in referring to Thaw's acquittal, "was brought in, Thaw was in that court a free and innocent man."

The ceremony took place in Calvary Episcopal church. Mr. Sherman is 25 years old and is professor of mathematics in Hamilton college, his father's alma mater. Like his father and brother, he is fond of outdoor sports, and is very popular socially.

DEEP CHANNEL MEN MEET

Upper Mississippi River Improvement Association Is Holding Its Eighth Convention in Winona.

Winona, Minn.—The Upper Mississippi River improvement association, which has for its object the securing of a deep channel for the river from Minneapolis to the mouth of the Missouri, met here Tuesday for its eighth annual convention. President Thaddeus Wilkinson of Burlington, Ia., was in the chair.

Mr. Black contended that that section of the code under which Supreme Court Justice Dowling ordered Thaw committed was unconstitutional because it was a process of law. He held that there was no proof that Thaw was insane at the time of his acquittal.

"When the verdict of that jury," said Mr. Black in referring to Thaw's acquittal, "was brought in, Thaw was in that court a free and innocent man."
